

Pediatric Therapy Network Impact and Outcomes Report

Program: It Takes Two to Talk- The Hanen Program for Parents

It Takes Two to Talk is a 13 week program for parents with young children who have communication difficulties. The program is divided into 8 group sessions and 3 individual visits with videotaping and feedback. This Hanen parent program aims to teach parents ways in which to promote their child's communication and language development. Pre and post program questionnaires were distributed to parent participants to evaluate the impact of the program.

Impact and Outcomes

Overall, parents reported having a greater understanding of communication development, feeling less stress related to their child's communication development and more prepared to help their child's communication skills after completion of the Hanen program.

100% of parent respondents indicated that their child has changed the way in which they communicate after participating in the Hanen program.

Hear what parents have to say about It Takes Two to Talk ...

- It has opened my eyes to how he communicates and I can now support my son in a way that is beneficial for both of us.
 - She's asking more, sharing more and using more language!
- He is much more vocal and has a lot more sounds and words! He is also more clear in his communication and motor planning.
 - This program changed my point of view about communication!

